DuraCozy Campers was designed by an avid Utah outdoorsman in 1983. Each camper is built of high quality fiberglass for rugged durability and care-free maintenance. The campers are sized to fit securely in a truck bed with the same clearance as your truck cab.

These streamline and low profile aspects make highway traveling more economical and convenient with no overhead top sway and wind resistance.

Once off-road, low branches, narrow passes, rocky and sandy roads, and other rough terrain are easier to navigate, getting you to the deep outback or high backcountry with some of the comforts of home. Clear and simple – DuraCozy goes anywhere your vehicle can.

From hunters to anglers, sightseers to campers, Duracozy is convenient, durable, and comfortable for the great outdoors.
